EVENTS

Coon, Margi and Rocky Chase, and Mark Nesmith who all donated wonderful items to the Garth, Harriet Garth, Kelly and John Fowler, Sandra Clark, Odeli Silva and Daniel Bonells. It was Winslow who emceed this year. They reported to have had a royal time in.

G
and John Gaston Fairey, that we can present such outstanding exhibitions of artwork from the and is accompanied by a gallery guide with a critical essay written by Jill Carrington, Ph.D., shows, group and solo exhibitions. This exhibiting in the main gallery. Participants will create inspired by the artwork of Anthony Sonnenberg, donoted by Lamar's Friends of the Arts were awarded to the first, second and third place winners. exhibitors were selected from entries submitted by 10 different high schools. Scholarships The Teddy Bear Magnolias will not three dwarf Teddy Bear Magnolias.

behind his work, which has an innate connection to childhood in the narrative imagery. Goodman spends much of hismultiple photo copies of his sketches so that he can explore with various colors and media, American and Cajun culture, folklore, history and traditions. Often inspired by poetry, the words of mixed media.

prolific body of mixed media

—

for campers interested in exploring 3D artmaking practices and will be for TeenVentures week. Children ages 5 —

 classes will be augmented with story times (using art for the Opening Reception of the 32

-—

ART COMPETITION

Keep teens active and engaged in making art

for

and

for

with

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for

for